

VISIT...

LANZAROTE
Caliente.COM

Political Map of the World, June 1999

June 1999

*Soviet and Mongolian have asserted the formation of a new independent state, but this entry has not been formally recognized as a state by the United States.

*Numerous of 10 states in continental nations have made no claims to Antarctic territory although Russia and the United States have reserved the right to do so and they do not recognize the claim of the other nations.

Boundary representation is not necessarily authoritative.